PORTFOLIO CREDIT QUALITY

Portfolio Credit Quality reflects the underlying credit risk of the asset or pool of assets. These include, when applicable, default risk of underlying obligors, repossession of assets and loss given default, liquidity risk, and market risk. ARC uses performance reports and updated data tapes to review any changes in underlying credit metrics, including asset performance and cash remittance information taking into account other qualitative and quantitative components given the relevance of performance and historical trends.

COUNTERPARTY RISK

Counterparty Risk reflects the risk of potential default of any of a variety of deal parties as applicable, including the originator, servicer, swap counterparty, account bank, or guarantor/supporting entity, as well as by a potential default of instruments in which deal cash is invested. Risks considered include, when applicable, set-off risk, commingling risks, swap counterparty exposures, operational risk and risk of default by account bank, default of guarantor/supporting entity or of temporary investments. Counterparty Risk will continually be assessed against the applicable criteria thresholds for a given transaction. Other information provided in performance reports may be used in reassessing operational risks and commingling risks when relevant.

LEGAL/REGULATORY FACTORS

Legal/Regulatory Considerations take into account the risk of potential legal challenges affecting deal performance in relation to issuer's bankruptcy remoteness, legal construct of swaps and the true sale or segregation of the assets, among others. Periodic Reviews consider specifically legal and regulatory changes or challenges when such risks materialize. Regulatory, statutory and judicial developments may require jurisdiction specific analysis, in particular changes in relevant laws and tax codes and how those changes may impact a deal.

STRUCTURAL CONSIDERATIONS:

Structural Considerations take into account the risk of change in cash flows for a deal. The priority of payments of principal and interest considers structural features such as overcollateralization, subordination, reserve accounts or excess spread, applied in full or in part, as well as relevant amortization profiles and revolving and IO (interest/only) mechanisms. Where applicable, external credit enhancement, such as letter of credit, surety bond and cash collateral account, are also reviewed.

Credit Ratings assigned by ARC Ratings are independent and forward looking opinions of the relative credit risks of financial obligations issued by various entities. The credit risk is the risk that an entity may not meet its financial obligations as they come due i.e. the capacity and willingness of an entity/issuer to make all required interest and principal payments on a given obligation in a timely manner in accordance with its terms. Credit ratings express risk in relative rank order – they are an ordinal measure of credit risk whose probability of default or loss may vary through the credit cycle. They are issued using an established and defined ranking system of rating categories (rating scale). ARC's credit ratings are determined using ARC's published rating criteria.

The rating(s) assigned by ARC Ratings in this report was/were sought by the entity whose financial commitments are being rated.

ARC Ratings provides to the entity whose financial commitments are being rated the documents that substantiate the rating to be attributed. This entity is thus given the opportunity to clarify or correct factual details. ARC Ratings also grants the issuer the possibility of appealing a rating accorded by ARC as long as this appeal is supported on additional information that hasn't been taken into account in the original rating accordance.

ARC Ratings, S.A. historical default rates are published in the European Securities and Markets Authority Central Repository (CEREP) which can be accessed on the website cerp.esma.europa.eu/cerp-web/.
